On April 14th the 7 Greene team (Eric Tupper, Sue Stevens, Lisa Martel, Karen Hundley and Kara Campbell, teachers) attended Exchange City located at Johnson and Wales' Harborside Campus.

The students were led by Brandon Greene, Exchange City mayor; bank president, Tyler Savastano; judge, Kayla Laroche; and business owners, Brian Zuba, Jack Collins, Kristina Iavarone, Jayne Roberts, Sara Straube, Katie Antonello, Kaidy Cornell, Joscelyn Varieur, Taylor Duquette, Sydney Blais, Ruby Perry, and Tiara Bianco.

Exchange City is a wonderful hands-on learning experience for middle school students. It combines a standards-based curriculum taught by teachers in their classrooms, followed by a field trip visit to a life-size, state-of-the-art city run by middle school students and sponsored by Johnson and Wales University.

Students immerse themselves in a real-life, simulated economy by taking on the roles of business owners, entrepreneurs, employees, civil servants and elected officials in their very own mini-town.

The integrated curriculum correlates with state frameworks for math, Language Arts, social studies, economics, technology skills and civics.

Spring Fling Dance

The dance requires proper dress only and is not a formal event.
